Finance Monthly FinTech Awards 2018

Finance Monthly is delighted to announce that its eagerly anticipated 2018 FinTech Awards Edition is now published.

The Finance Monthly FinTech Awards recognise the true innovators who help drive the FinTech sector forward and help make the sector what it is today. We acknowledge and reward the individuals, firms, start-ups and banks who are recognised as leaders in their area of expertise.

As a leading industry publication, Finance Monthly reports on news and trends within the FinTech industry every month, which makes us ideally placed to observe the sector and the most skilful and diligent professionals that operate within it.

Finance Monthly's research department has spent the past several months carefully researching and identifying some of the most respected individuals and firms from all over the world, those that devise and design new financial technology and those that implement new systems, which in turn enhances customer experience.

Finance Monthly would like to thank all contributors and participants in the 2018 FinTech Awards.
